

January 11, 2012

10 Years Too Many:

National Day of Action Against Guantánamo

Join a rally in Washington, DC and help create a human chain of more than 2,000 people, representing the individuals still detained without charge or fair trial at Guantánamo and Bagram, from the White House to the Capitol. We will raise our voices and demand:

- Close Guantánamo & end abuses at Bagram
- End indefinite detention and unfair military commissions
- Charge and fairly try detainees or release them
- Ensure accountability for torture: investigate, prosecute and provide remedy for victims
- Revise the Army Field Manual to help ensure torture isn't used again
- Fight Islamophobia

With few exceptions, the Bush detention regime has been more deeply institutionalized by the Obama administration, and the failure to close Guantánamo is but one in a string of unkept promises. While the media has largely abandoned the issue, a bipartisan consensus is emerging to commit permanently to terrible policies. We need to speak out with a new determination to reach policy-makers, the media, and the public.

Buses will be coming to Washington DC from cities throughout the Eastern United States.

PLEASE SIGN UP, e-mail:

security@aiusa.org or jan11@witnessorture.org

www.amnestyusa.org/jan11

www.witnessorture.org

January 11, 2012

10 Years Too Many:

National Day of Action Against Guantánamo

Join a rally in Washington, DC and help create a human chain of more than 2,000 people, representing the individuals still detained without charge or fair trial at Guantánamo and Bagram, from the White House to the Capitol. We will raise our voices and demand:

- Close Guantánamo & end abuses at Bagram
- End indefinite detention and unfair military commissions
- Charge and fairly try detainees or release them
- Ensure accountability for torture: investigate, prosecute and provide remedy for victims
- Revise the Army Field Manual to help ensure torture isn't used again
- Fight Islamophobia

With few exceptions, the Bush detention regime has been more deeply institutionalized by the Obama administration, and the failure to close Guantánamo is but one in a string of unkept promises. While the media has largely abandoned the issue, a bipartisan consensus is emerging to commit permanently to terrible policies. We need to speak out with a new determination to reach policy-makers, the media, and the public.

Buses will be coming to Washington DC from cities throughout the Eastern United States.

PLEASE SIGN UP, e-mail:

security@aiusa.org or jan11@witnessorture.org

www.amnestyusa.org/jan11

www.witnessorture.org

Amnesty International USA · Witness Against Torture · Center for Constitutional Rights
Physicians for Human Rights · National Religious Campaign Against Torture · Bill of Rights Defense Committee
No More Guantánamos · Pax Christi · Torture Abolition and Survivors Support Coalition (TASSC) · Catholic Worker · War Resisters League
World Can't Wait · Code Pink · War Criminals Watch · School of the Americas Watch (SOAW) · Voices for Creative Nonviolence (VCNV)
National Campaign for Nonviolent Resistance · September 11th Families for Peaceful Tomorrows · WarIsACrime.org

Amnesty International USA · Witness Against Torture · Center for Constitutional Rights
Physicians for Human Rights · National Religious Campaign Against Torture · Bill of Rights Defense Committee
No More Guantánamos · Pax Christi · Torture Abolition and Survivors Support Coalition (TASSC) · Catholic Worker · War Resisters League
World Can't Wait · Code Pink · War Criminals Watch · School of the Americas Watch (SOAW) · Voices for Creative Nonviolence (VCNV)
National Campaign for Nonviolent Resistance · September 11th Families for Peaceful Tomorrows · WarIsACrime.org