

STAND FIRM FOR JUSTICE!

Global Day of Action for Troy Davis

Thursday, October 23rd

An execution date for Troy Davis has been set for October 27. There will be a large rally at the state capitol in Atlanta, GA on October 23. Please organize solidarity rallies or other public events to demand justice for Troy Davis on this date.

IMPORTANT! This is a GLOBAL call to action. Please email jcohn@aiusa.org with a time and place of your event.

AT YOUR EVENT:

- Make and bring signs that say “I am Troy Davis!”, or “We Are Troy Davis!”
- Hold up enlarged photos of Troy Davis (see example below)
- Emphasize that this execution is taking place despite that fact that Troy Davis’ strong claims of innocence have never been resolved.
- Express your sympathies for the family of Troy Davis and the family of Officer Mark Allen MacPhail.
- Emphasize that this execution, like all executions, will solve nothing and only add to the pain caused by the original crime.
- Call for abolition of the death penalty.

IDEAS FOR SOLIDARITY EVENTS:

- Candlelight vigils (religious or secular) – Provide at least one speaker to put the event in context and to open and close the event. If possible, you might want to close the event with music or singing (the tone should be somber and serious). Be sure to provide candles and signs and/or banners with brief versions of the above messages. Have Troy Davis fact sheets on hand to give to interested passersby.
- Public rallies – Provide a few speakers, and a bullhorn or microphone. If possible, you might also want to include music or singing in the event (the tone should be somber and serious). Be sure to provide signs and/or banners with brief versions of the above messages. Have Troy Davis fact sheets on hand to give to interested passersby.
