THE Reebok HUMAN RIGHTS SUMMER FELLOWSHIP

The Reebok Human Rights Summer Fellowship offers students a unique opportunity to gain practical experience in the field of human rights. Amnesty International USA (AIUSA) is recruiting fellows to spend summer 2008 working with organizations connected to Reebok Human Rights Award winners or AIUSA. Postings are in the United States and abroad. Fellows receive funding of up to a maximum of $2,500 to use towards air travel and other expenses.

Who can apply?

18–25 year old students of any nationality attending school in the U.S. and U.S. citizens aged 18–25 studying abroad.

If you have a demonstrated commitment to upholding human rights, make a difference this summer on the frontlines of human rights activism.

All applicants should be aware that human rights work can be extremely challenging and fellows may be required to perform their duties in difficult situations where they may face some risks.

How to apply

Applications are available online and due on March 4, 2008 for summer 2008 fellowships. For more information and an application form visit:
