

URGENT ACTION

SENATE MUST RENEW CITIZEN COUNCIL

The Citizen Council of the National Search System has been vacant since May 2024 despite multiple calls from civil society groups for a fully functional institution. The Mexican Senate has not yet launched a public call to renew its members. The Council's inability to operate effectively hinders the right of people searching for victims of disappearance to participate in decision-making and overseeing the government's plans and operations regarding the disappeared crisis faced by the country. We call on the Senate to immediately open the call for applications to conform to the National Citizen Council and continue with the appointment of its members.

Dear Senator,

I am writing to you to express my concern about the delay in the renewal of the National Citizen Council of the National Search System, a crucial advisory body to countering the concerning situation of disappearances in the country and ensuring the right of the relatives of victims of enforced disappearances to participate in decision-making.

According to the Mexican General Law on the Forced Disappearance of Persons, the National Citizen Council is made up of relatives of victims of disappearances, experts in human rights or in searching disappeared people, and representatives of human rights organizations. It proposes measures to ensure the search for disappeared people, oversees the government's performance in this respect, and reports any possible irregularities. The Mexican Senate is in charge of appointing the members of the National Citizen Council, after public consultation, guaranteeing the principle of gender parity.

Mexico is facing a long-lasting crisis of disappearances: according to the National Registry of Missing and Unlocated Persons, to date, at least 124,000 people are missing or unlocated. Despite the importance of the National Citizen Council in addressing this crisis, since May 2024, the Council is not operating because the Mexican Senate has not yet launched a public call to select its members.

Therefore, I urge you to take all necessary steps to appoint the members of the National Citizen Council of the National Search System ensuring the right to search of the relatives of victims of enforced disappearance, including by participating in decision-making.

Yours sincerely,

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

In 2017, the Mexican government approved a robust and specialized regulatory framework on disappearances, following a legislative process that guaranteed the participation of thousands of families under the slogan “no without the families.” Under that framework their right to participate was recognized as one of the main pillars to address the crisis of the disappearances in the country.

One of the mechanisms that guarantees the participation of the relatives of victims of enforced disappearance is the Citizen Council, which, according to Article 60 of the General Law on Forced Disappearance of Persons, Disappearance Committed by Private Individuals and the National Search System for Missing Persons, must be composed by:

- Five relatives of missing persons
- Four experts in human rights or searching for disappeared persons
- Four representatives of human rights organizations

Following the same article, the Mexican Senate must appoint the members of the National Citizen Council, after public consultation, guaranteeing the principle of gender parity.

Based on Article 62 of the same law, the Citizen Council should propose measures to the National System, the National Search Commission, and the institutions that form the National Search System aiming to improve the functioning of programs, registries, databases, and tools; propose, and support technical assistance measures for searching disappeared people; report to the competent authorities and internal control bodies of irregularities allegedly committed by public servants related to the search and investigation of missing and unlocated persons; make recommendations about the configuration and performance of the National Search Commission.

Following the law, the Senate appointed the former members of the National Citizen Council in April 2018 who finished their term in April 2024. Since May 2024, this Council has been vacant.

As a result, in February 2025, the former members of the National Citizen Council launched a statement calling the Senate to fulfill their obligations and carry out the Council’s recruitment process.

On March 5 and 11, respectively, women searching for the disappeared discovered clandestine graves and crematoriums in Teuchitlán, Jalisco and Reynosa, Tamaulipas. President Sheinbaum announced measures to address the situation of disappearances in Mexico. NGOs and collectives expressed that it is positive that measures are being taken to address the situation of disappearances but pointed out that the main problem is not one of creating new laws or institutions, but of resources, political will, and compliance with the general law. This context makes it even more urgent that the Citizen Council is effectively operating as soon as possible.
