IRAN: PRISONERS IN IRAN AT RISK DURING ONGOING US AND ISRAELI STRIKES (UA 14.26)

Ongoing US and Israeli air strikes near prisons, as well as the targeting of security facilities where detainees are held, are placing prisoners, including children, at risk. Iranian authorities' refusal to release all those arbitrarily detained and grant humanitarian release to others imprisoned is knowingly placing those prisoners at risk of death or serious harm. Some prisoners have been transferred to unidentified locations or areas near potential military objectives, intensifying concerns for their safety. Authorities are also subjecting prisoners to enforced disappearance and denying them access to adequate food and water.

We call on Iranian authorities to immediately release those arbitrarily detained, and to grant humanitarian release to other prisoners.
